

3 Books to Add to Your Library, for Pet's Sake

BONDING WITH YOUR DOG, BY VICTORIA SCHADE

A wonderful book that reframes what it is to create a strong bond with your dog, based equal parts in love and respect. Victoria Schade eloquently explains the principles of benevolent leadership that every pet parent should practice, along with great training tips and games. The perfect mix between theoretical and practical, it should be a staple in every pet parent's library.

BIG MAGIC, BY ELIZABETH GILBERT

When you are leading a fulfilling life, taking time to engage in activities you are passionate about and enjoy, your pup's behavior reflects it. Elizabeth Gilbert explains why it is so important to be creative in your own life, and ways to overcome the mundane obstacles and common fears that keep us from shining our light. Learn how to be inspired and inspiring, doing what you love. Think of it as self-help, for Pet's sake!

THE OTHER END OF THE LEASH, BY PATRICIA MCCONNELL

The quintessential book for anyone who has a dog in his or her life, this is the To Kill A Mockingbird of the dog world. Patricia McConnell outlines the differences between the psyche of primates and canines in a clear, compelling, and actionable way. This is a must read for any pet parent who wants to know the "WHY" behind behavior and training.
